Regional Outreach Coordinator

Survivor-centered...Inclusive...Forward thinking...Flexible...Trauma informed...Empowering...Transformative

These are the values we believe in and strive to embody...as an organization that works to restore the lives of survivors of sexual assault, child sexual abuse, family & intimate partner violence as well as works to transform community and culture through prevention, advocacy, and social action. Through innovation, collaboration, and supporting survivors in their journey as they define it – and to end sexual violence through promoting accountability and challenging the cultural and societal norms that foster it. In addition, we are seeking to expand community access to services addressing stalking and other crimes.

To accomplish this, HelpLine needs an experienced, collaborative professional to build partnerships and help expand services in the area of stalking as well as other crime victims that may be underserved across an identified region. The Regional Outreach Coordinator is responsible for building collaboration in the North Central Region and addressing underserved needs for crime victims with a particular focus on stalking. The North Central Region includes Delaware, Morrow, Crawford, Wyandot, Union, Marion, and Franklin Counties. This position also is trained in sexual assault services and provides back up on-call support to the team.

You will be a part of an experienced and dedicated team consisting of a Sexual Assault Response Network (SARN) Program Manager, SARN Coordinators, Violence Prevention Program Manager, Violence Prevention Educators and volunteers.

This position reports to the Sexual Assault/Victims Services Director who is a Licensed Social Worker with a strong background in community based services, as well as sexual and relationship violence.

REQUIREMENTS

- + Bachelor's degree with two years of documented experience in sexual assault, domestic violence, or crime victim field
